Fines in Order for Stop Sign Offenders

Hearings to Be Held by Burgess Henry Frye on Monday Night.

A campaign to enforce "Stop" signs at intersections of Through Streets in Narberth is being conducted by the Police with the full co-operation of Council and the Burgess.

Hearings for 10 violations of this ordinance have been set for next Monday night at the Council Chamber, Elm Hall, before Burgess Henry A. Frye. In addition three merchants will have hearings at this time on fire hazards at their places of business, due to accumulations of rubbish and wood.

The report of the Public Safety Committee of Council read at the regular meeting on Monday night stated that: "We are convinced that these (Stop) signs which were erected to safeguard the public at important street intersections, are being ignored by many drivers of automobiles." . . . "The signs say 'Stop,' and the reckless minority will have to obey the law or pay the proscribed penalty."

A "No Parking" zone was established on the west side of Narberth avenue from Haverford avenue to the railroad bridge. One hour parking signs on the west side of Narberth, Forest and Essex avenues were also installed this week.

Narberth Ball Team Opens With Victory

Ninth Inning Rally Downs Resurrection C. C. by 4-3 Score.

By DAVE CASEY

With a hectic ninth inning rally the Narberth team overcame a two-run lead and sent the Resurrection C. C. of Philadelphia down to a 4-to-3 defeat in the opening game of the 1931 season last Saturday at the playground.

The game was marked by light hitting throughout, as Lefty Griffiths, of the visitors, held the Narberth boys to four hits and eliminated no less than fifteen by the strikeout route. The four Narberth twirlers who saw service were also very effective and limited Resurrection to the same number of basehits.

Narberth scored first in the third inning when McKee singled, advanced

League Season Opens Saturday on Playground

That hardy perennial, the Main Line League, will get under way once more this Saturday. The Narberth Club, champions for the last three years, will start their campaign for their fourth consecutive title with the Lansdowne team as their opponents.

The Lansdowne team is composed of the same players who have appeared here in previous years as Brookline and the Dunkirk F. C. This club, which changes its name with the facility of a habitual criminal, is a hard-hitting aggregation and should give the local boys an interesting battle.

The game will be played at the local playground and will begin at 3.15. The club officials hope that a large crowd of local fans will be on hand to cheer Gene Davis' 1931 edition of Narberth Club on to a triumphant beginning in the league race.

Spring Luncheon Tuesday

The Women's Community Club of Narberth will hold their annual Spring Luncheon at Elm Hall on Tuesday, at 1 P. M. The president requests that all officers and chairmen present their reports at this meeting. Reservations may be made with Mrs. J. E. Burrell. Mrs. Horace R. McConnell, Montgomery county chairman of Juniors, will present some original character sketches. Mrs. George N. Gill and her Hospitality Committee are in charge of the luncheon.

Boy Week in Narberth is over, but the memory will linger on!

It was one grand week of activity, ending on Saturday by taking part in the mammoth picnic and parade conducted by the Main Line Boy Council at Wayne.

Narberth's contingent was so large that it literally made a parade in itself going up the Lincoln Highway to Wayne. Corporal Lipp and two of his assistants of the State Police Department cleared the way for Albert Miller and his huge fire truck loaded with boys, followed by 22 private automobiles filled to the limit. Each car was labeled "Narberth," and while passing through the several towns en route the screeching of the fire truck siren and the tooting of automobile horns brought hundreds of persons rushing to the street to see the boys go by.

The parade moved eastward through Wayne on the Lincoln Highway. It traversed a distance of one and seven-tenths miles, ending on the Radnor High School grounds, where a lunch was immediately served to all participants.

In the afternoon a series of picnic games was conducted. Twenty of the older boys decided to win the push-ball contest, which they did, but only after a struggle that reminded the spectators of a L. M.-Radnor football game. The younger boys lost in the tug-of-war. Champion Rosier took second place in marbles.

In the hobby contest, Narberth won "hands down," taking three first places and one second place in the four classifications.

I. Malin Rodgers, of Woodside Avenue, entered a collection of butterflies and moths which was acclaimed the best hobby display of collected articles from any Main Line community. Dewey Thompson's scale model ore carrying Lake cargo boat, built from plans furnished by the Bethlehem Steel Company and then reduced to 1-16th of an inch to a foot, displayed such

Kitty Jane Miller Heads Narberth Sub-Juniors

The final meeting of the Sub-Juniors of the Woman's Community Club of Narberth was held on Monday evening, May 4, when the election of officers for the coming season took place. The results were: President, Kitty Jane Miller; vice president, Evelyn Hansell; corresponding secretary, Dot Metius; recording secretary, Katherine Lukens; treasurer, Winnie James. The girls welcomed the new senior adviser, Mrs. Walter J. Odiorne, of Merion avenue. To close the season, the club will go in town for dinner on Friday and later attend the performance of the Student Prince at the Shubert Theater.

Local Movies

Narberth Theatre Notes

No one should miss "Cimarron," the cinema version of Edna Ferber's best-selling novel of the American Southwest. Even Jay E. House, famed Public Ledger columnist, broke his rule never to see motion pictures, and saw "Cimarron" when it was playing in Philadelphia. With Richard Dix in the leading role and an all-star cast, the picture will undoubtedly be ranked as one of the 10 best of 1931. It's at the Narberth Theatre this Friday and Saturday.

Barbara Stanwyck stars in "Illicit," playing at Narberth's Theatre next Monday and Tuesday. Next Wednesday and Thursday the feature will be "New Moon," in which Lawrence Tibbett and Grace Moore sing beautifully "Lover Come Back to Me" and other songs from the Sigmund Romberg operetta, and Adolphe Menjou and two comedians help redeem a typically stage-operatic story. At Narberth next Friday and Saturday will be Charles Farrell and the new imported star, Elisa Landi, in "Body and Soul."

At the Egyptian

Joan Crawford, Cliff Edwards and others do their best in "Dance, Fools, Dance," the Chicago gangster story playing at the Egyptian Theatre this Friday and Saturday.

Romance of a modern New York girl and a globe-trotting journalist, with scenes in New York night clubs, Biarritz casinos and other around-the-world points, is the basis of Ursula Parrott's novel, whose movie version, "Strangers May Kiss," is coming to the Egyptian next Monday and Tuesday. Directed by George Fitzmaurice, the cast includes Norma Shearer, Irene Rich, Robert Montgomery and Hale Hamilton.

"East Lynne," at Cynwyd next Wednesday and Thursday, is a well-told story of high emotional intensity, directed by Frank Lloyd; scenes by Joseph Urban; capable cast includes Ann Harding, Clive Brook, Conrad Nagel, O. P. Heggie, David Torrence, Cecilia Loftus and Beryl Mercer.

"Along Came Youth" — at the Egyptian next Friday and Saturday — is a tale of a penniless millionaire who takes society with a broken-down race horse and pocketbook, and sweeps into the finish with Frances Dee, Chevalier's sweetheart in "Playboy of Paris." Charles Rogers is aided by Stuart Erwin in this comedy.

At the matinee next Saturday, a special performance will be given, one time only, of a stage circus, with underprivileged children as invited guests, and the entire public welcome to attend at the regular price of admission, part of which will aid the Bala-Cynwyd Social Service League in its work for the unemployed in this vicinity.

Welfare Offers Reward to Run Down Malicious Rumors

A reward of $500 is offered by William M. Elkins, president of the Welfare Federation, to any one who can prove the truth of the story, circulated throughout Philadelphia and suburbs, that the Federation retained $60 "for overhead expenses" out of a recent contribution of $100 for relief of a specific case of distress.

A determined effort to put an immediate stop to misrepresentation of the Welfare Federation by uninformed scandal mongers is being made, Mr. Elkins said.

Commenting upon the situation which brought about the necessity for the Welfare Federation's announcement, Mr. Elkins said: "This malicious story, in a great number of variations, has been persistently repeated, in many instances by persons who certainly should realize its ridiculous untruth, for several months. When it first was brought to the attention of the federation, we considered it too absurd to be dignified by a denial, but in view of the fact its repetition has continued throughout the winter and the names of other leading Philadelphia welfare organizations have been linked with it, we considered the time had come to call a halt."

Plan Berry Festival

The Narberth Methodist Episcopal Church will hold a Strawberry Festival on Friday evening, June 5, on the lawn in back of the Church, the weather permitting, otherwise the Festival will be held in the Recreation Room.

'TIME OUT'

By TOMMY MACKLIN

Pete Lewis is the new coach of Norristown High School sports this season. Pete is a Norristown High boy, a college graduate, and served a couple of years as coach at Altoona before coming to Norristown last September to take charge of the football, basketball and track teams. And Pete is in a tough "situation." The school authorities are trying that ancient gag about intramural sports only for junior high students, and the result all of you know.

Norristown has gone down the ladder in the last four years in all sports, including baseball. Where poor Pete comes in, is that the fans expect winning teams, and no living human can compete with such odds as he is up against and come out on top with victories.

When he gets his boys in the sophomore class they are green and wholly inexperienced so far as competition goes, with the result that they have reached their senior year before they begin to become real athletes.

Just keep that in mind when you kick about the coaches, for sometimes it isn't their fault.

Adam takes his Maroon track team to Bethlehem tomorrow to take part in the District No. 1 State meet. Lower Merion has been in this meet for five consecutive years and has won them all. Last season was their highest score, with something like 45 points to their credit. It seemed that all of the boys were "on" that day, and every one came through in great style. Adam is taking along 21 boys.

He can enter only two boys in each event, and each boy can enter in only three events. If a boy runs a 440-yard race or better he is through in track events.

The Maroon has a good chance to hold the championship tomorrow.

Herbert Thomas, lefthanded rookie on Bill Anderson's baseball team, is not only pitching excellent ball for the team, but he is leading the boys on the club in hitting with a mark well over .300.

Lower Merion's young golf team totally eclipsed the Lansdowne foursomes on Monday at St. Davids old course. Beyer, Ball, Hughie Wynn and Slim Brubaker all came through with their matches early, leaving Braid to finish. The fifth man came through also for a victory.

If Davis' boys can take Jenkintown today in a return match, the team will rate high for the championship in their first real year of competition.

High spot for the week was Brubaker's 38 for the last nine holes.

Maroon Track Team Wins 2d Place at Villanova Meet

Lower Merion High School brought second honors home from Villanova College last Saturday as her track team put on a burst of speed at the final moment to tally nine points in the discus throw and bring the scoring total to 34 3/4 points, only 1 1/2 below the amount scored by Haverford High School.

Haverford took first place with 35 3/4 points, due mostly to Lower Merion's lack of first place winners with other schools entering with so many almost record-breaking entries. Lower Merion defeated Haverford in a dual meet last week, 68 to 45, on Pennypacker Field, but the work of Forrest, Brunhouse and Muller kept the team right in the lead all the way to victory.

Rose, Rinehart Hit Homers as L. M. Beats George School

Bill Anderson's baseball team played ordinary ball Saturday up at George School to bring home a victory to the Maroon by a heavy score of 8 to 5.

Lefty Thomas pitched a good game, but found the plate difficult of location at certain stages of the game. Two or three of Lower Merion's first string men had to stay at home, due to week-end duties, but the reserves managed to take care of the situation in fair order.

Home runs by Rose and Rinehart pulled the team through in the final innings. This makes the fifth or sixth home run of the season for the huge captain of the Maroon team. It looks as if Seaver is the Big Bertha in suburban baseball.

The game with Chester was rained out on Tuesday, and the team continues its schedule this afternoon against Glen-Nor on Pennypacker Field. It is likely some of the sophomore pitchers and players will have an opportunity to show their wares in this game.

Honor Society Installs New Members
In the assembly of May 8, the Lower Merion Chapter of the National Honor Society installed its new members. Twenty-one students of the senior and junior classes received this honor, which is bestowed after a vote by the students of their respective classes and the faculty.

After George H. Gilbert, principal of the school, explained the significance of the Honor Society emblem and the purpose of the institution, Susan Abernathy, one of the charter members of this school's chapter, welcomed the parents of the newly elected members.

Then Mr. Gilbert announced the new members, who took places reserved for them on the platform. William McGarvey, of the senior class, and Douglas Robertson, of the junior class, expressed the appreciation and thanks of the members of their class for the honor.

After the new members took the pledge, the speaker, Rev. Edmund M. Faye, of Norristown, was introduced by a member of the faculty. Dr. Faye spoke on the value of "Hope."

After the assembly the new members and their parents were entertained at a tea given in the library by the members of last year.

Senior Play Presented.

The annual play was given by the senior class in the High School Auditorium on Friday and Saturday evenings, May 8 and 9. This year "Seven Keys to Baldpate" was presented by an excellent cast under the direction of Miss Myrna Sheely. Aided by excellent scenery and realistic lighting effects, the cast turned out the most successful performances possible. Presented before a well-filled house each night, the play brought in enough funds to increase the class treasury substantially.

Narberth School Notes

The plans are complete for a "big day" today when the Reds and Grays will vie for the honor of receiving the silver trophy in Field Day events. The elimination contests have been worked out as a part of the regular gymnasium work, while the winners will compete on Friday afternoon. The exhibition of school work is being arranged and placed and promises to be most interesting. Work has been kept throughout the year and will serve to show the friends and patrons of the school just what the children have done.

If stormy the outside events will be held Monday afternoon. The exhibit will be in place and may be viewed Friday afternoon and evening.

Students at the Narberth School will give a performance of the operetta, "Robin Hood," at 8.15 P. M. next Friday, May 22, in the school auditorium. Admission will be 35 cents. Songs of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries are being used; costumes are authentic, designed by Miss Margaret Gassner, of the school faculty. The production is being coached by the school's music supervisor, Miss Frances Fricke. Scenery was painted by boys and girls of the sixth and seventh grades. The school orchestra will play an overture.

Legion Notes

News and Activities of the Harold D. Speakman Post.

The next meeting of the executive committee of Harold D. Speakman Post, No. 356, will be held in the Legion Room on Windsor avenue, on Monday, May 18, at 8.30 P. M. At this meeting final plans for the parade and the Memorial Day exercises, including the presentation of medals and honors to be paid to departed comrades, will be discussed and settled definitely. All officers and committee-men are requested to attend.

The Post Adjutant is trying to find all the Gold Star Mothers, Civil War Veterans, Spanish War Veterans and veterans of other wars who are not members of the American Legion, in order to invite them to participate in the Memorial Day ceremonies. If YOU are one of these, please telephone immediately to Adjutant C. J. Clarke, phone CYNWYD 1880. That is, IF you live in NARBERTH, or formerly lived here.

The Post Commander or the Chaplain will officiate at the Memorial Day observance following the parade, and will present two American Legion School Award medals to the two most deserving school boys in the graduating classes of the Narberth Public School and St. Margaret's Parochial School, respectively. The American Legion Auxiliary will also present School Award medals to the two girls in the graduating classes who will be selected for this honor by their respective schools.

Invitations to participate in the Memorial Day parade in Narberth have been sent to the Narberth Fire Company, the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Narberth Public School, St. Margaret's School, etc. Every boy and girl who marches in the parade will be given a red-white-and-blue paper soldier cap to wear and an American flag to carry, if they are pupils of one of these schools. The flags and caps will be supplied by American Legion Post, No. 356.

Next week "Our Town" will announce in this column the complete plans for the observance of Memorial Day in Narberth. However, we can tell you NOW that the parade will start promptly at 9 A. M. and it will be all over in time for you to jump in the family car afterward and drive up to Valley Forge to listen (provided you can squeeze through the crowd) to President Hoover. We don't advise you to go to Valley Forge, however, just to hear the President, unless you have a powerful pair of field glasses to see him with. If you want to really HEAR his voice, you can do so by staying home and tuning in the radio.

Let Us Control Our Growth

"If our foresight were as good as our hindsight, we'd be better off by a darn sight."

During the past week two groups of Main Line citizens have met for the purpose of providing for better foresight. In Haverford Township last Thursday night were fired the opening guns in a campaign to create a Township plan. In Ardmore Monday night, the third meeting in Lower Merion's progress toward that end was held.

It is a new idea to many, yet to plan is an elementary bit of common sense. The present movement arises from the nearly completed groundwork of the Regional Planning Federation, and is designed to apply to local conditions the broad principles laid down by that body.

Not only should this movement receive the wholehearted support of citizens and officials—it should be handled finally as a plan for the entire Main Line. A step in this direction was taken in Mr. Serrill's remarks Thursday night. Narberth, while pretty thoroughly built up, should tie into the plan, and Radnor's interests may certainly be considered continuous with those of Lower Merion.

The Main Line, one of the finest suburban sections in the world, is on the threshold of the greatest threat to its beauty and convenience. The present period of quiet will soon be followed by a greatly increased growth in population. Better roads, more parks and improved shopping facilities must go along with this increase. The planning must be done now while activity is at low ebb.

The first step, of course, is to urge the creation of a Planning Commission by Lower Merion and Haverford Townships, in which sections the movement is well under way. Narberth and Radnor should prepare to co-operate, for although each political unit must handle its own problems, the general plan should benefit every part of the Main Line. By sharing in the expense, a unified chart of future growth may be prepared.

Zoning, building laws, highway plans, shade tree commissions, all contribute to sane progress and attractive growth. The existence of a community plan should guide these various agencies for many years in the future. Today is the time to get the movement actually under way.

Fire Companies Need Support

Without popular support from residents, the volunteer fire companies of Lower Merion and Narberth would not be able to render nearly as efficient service and protection as they now do.

Although the Township Commissioners and Borough Council contribute generously to the support of the fire companies, such revenue constitutes only about half of each company's expenses. The rest must be made up from contributions, fairs, benefits, etc. Narberth is fortunate in having the backing of an energetic group of women who have contributed greatly to the Company's resources.

Just now the Merion Fire Company of Ardmore is in the midst of a campaign to increase its contributing membership. Its current expenses amount to approximately $12,000 per year, towards which the Commissioners appropriate $6000 yearly.

If Ardmore is to maintain its rating with the underwriters who set fire insurance rates, its company must be enabled to carry on its work in the most efficient manner, and to do so it must not be handicapped by lack of funds.

A five dollar contributing membership is not too much to expect from every householder in Ardmore and its immediate vicinity.

J. Bruce Byall Heads County Welfare Council

J. Bruce Byall, of Penn Valley, was re-elected president of the Council for Social Welfare of Montgomery County at its annual meeting held at Norristown on Monday.

Among those attending the meeting from the Main Line section were Miss Mildred Martin, field supervisor of the health work of the Community Health and Civic Association of Ardmore; Mrs. J. E. Caldwell, of Bryn Mawr;

Albert Faunce and Mrs. R. F. Tull, of Bala-Cynwyd.

Prohibition flaws, if any, and there's a strong belief there are some, will be considered by an Advisory Research Council of ten college professors, including one each from Bryn Mawr and the University of Pennsylvania. What I can't understand is why the question should be opened again after being answered, settled and finished up by the Wickersham Commission.

Circus in Cynwyd Theater Due May 23

Trained Animal Acts, Band,
'Big Top,' Etc., for Unfortunate Children.

TO AID SOCIAL SERVICE

Poor children who have never seen a circus, and unfortunate children in nearby institutions have been invited to attend a real circus performance to be given on the stage of the Egyptian Theatre, Cynwyd, Saturday afternoon, May 23.

Bala - Cynwyd's Social Service League, organized to co-operate with the Main Line Federation of Churches and aid unemployed persons in West Manayunk and the eastern end of the township, will share in the proceeds from the sale of tickets. The general public will be admitted at the theatre's regular fee of 35 cents for adults and 25 cents for children under twelve. Tickets are now being sold at the theatre box office.

No expense is being spared by the Egyptian Theatre management in securing a show worth seeing, with mostly professional features. There will be a band, an aggregation of funny clowns, a troupe of gymnasts—and at least three trained animal acts. All the elements of a big show are being assembled that can be crowded together under the Cynwyd theatre's roof. The entire theatre will have the aspect of a big top, and there will even be pink lemonade, according to Managing Director Joseph Conway. Mr. Conway is a circus fan himself, and has seen four circuses already this year, studying them with a view to bringing to Cynwyd their best features.

The performance May 23 will commence at 2:15 P. M., and there will be only the one show. Following the circus, an appropriate photoplay will conclude the performance.

Your clothing will wear longer and look better, if you'll rely on us.—We are here to serve you, now and years hence; and because we value your good opinion, you can be sure we'll do your work right.

Music

Every year for the past eight seasons the Bryn Mawr College Glee Club has given an annual production of a Gilbert and Sullivan opera. All have been of a uniformly high standard. This year's production of "The Mikado" last Friday and Saturday nights at Goodhart Hall proved no exception. Dexterously the young ladies manipulated their fans; sets were admirably designed and executed; young ladies cast for men's parts struggled manfully to keep their voices in their lower registers. The singing was of a high standard, giving evidence of careful rehearsing by the conductor and musical director, F. H. Ernest Willoughby. Familiar choruses brought forth salvos of applause from the enthusiastic audience, which required numerous encores to appease their yen. Hit of the show, small Richard Rogers, as the bearer of the Lord High Executioner's sword. Best singer, Sheema Zeben, as Katisha.

Four musicians on the stage of the Ardmore Theatre playing Schubert's quartet in D Minor. It was the Redwood String Quartet, composed of members of the Main Line Orchestra, in its first public appearance last Sunday evening. In addition to Schubert, they played Dvorak's American Quartet, "Angel Gabriel" (old plantation song), and Gavotte (old French). Playing with remarkable unison, the Quartet gave evidence of careful rehearsing. Its members: Dr. W. F. G. Swann, director and cellist; Mrs. S. B. Coggleshall, first violin; Mrs. J. R. Mickle, second violin; Mrs. Swann, viola. Dr. F. W. Suderman substituted at Sunday's recital for Mrs. Mickle.

Narberth Boys Capture Prizes in Hobby Contest

exceptional ability that by all odds he was given first place in this section. He lives in Wynnewood, but had entered his hobby in the Narberth section.

The totem pole, carved by Gus Mosteller, proved to be the best home-made hobby, and he, too, was a first prize winner. Bill Lockyer's pursuit monoplane came within an ace of capturing first place. For a while the judges could not agree, but after considerable discussion they felt that this display should take second place.

Local Hobbies Attractive.

Prior to taking Narberth's hobbies to Wayne for entering in the general Main Line contest, they had been on display in the center window of the Narberth Hardware Store, where they attracted considerable attention.

Gus Mosteller's totem pole, Dewey Thompson's boat and Bill Lockyer's monoplane were not the tack for the judges to decide upon as were the "collected" hobbies. Here the collection of foreign, domestic and air postage stamps, wrappers and cigar bands presented by S. Parker Woolmington, vied with Malin Rodgers' butterfly collection for first honors.

The judges, H. A. Frye, K. L. M. Pray and Walton Wentz, rated and rerated these two several times without being able to agree on the superiority of one over the other. Finally, it was decided to award each of these two boys "first place" and give them similar prizes.

In the "collected" hobby section, American League baseballs were given S. Parker Woolmington and I. Malin Rodgers.

In the "assembled" hobbies, a baseball bat was awarded to "Bill" Lockyer. Gus Mosteller received a book of 10 tickets to the local theater for his best "home-made" hobby, while Dewey Thompson was awarded a Scout knife as a prize for his hobby which showed the greatest ability.

Honorable mention was given the following: Sam McCartney, collection of safety match folders; "Sonny" Speed, original autographs; Chandler Pitcher, two boards of knots; Roll Phillips, samples of wood work; Nelson Strang, stamp collection; D. T. Stroup, stamp collection; R. W. Deaves, stamp collection; Alan Munro, collection of cigar bands; I. Malin Rodgers, coin collection; Bob Rowley, stamp collection.

These hobbies were on display from Wednesday morning until Saturday evening. The prizes were donated by local merchants.

Every cow in the herd that had once freshened was included in computing this average, regardless of age or stage of lactation, reports Advanced Registry Superintendent W. A. Kyle, of the National Ayrshire Breeders' Association at Brandon, Vt.

Individual honors in the herd for production were won by Penshurst Charity, a five-year-old, which cow produced 2029 pounds of milk, 91.71 pounds of butterfat; Dewdrop Star, an eleven-year-old, which produced 1552 pounds milk, 77.60 pounds butterfat; Fico's Red Rose, a four-year-old, which produced 1430 pounds milk, 70.64 pounds butterfat; Penshurst Polly, a four-year-old, which produced 1795 pounds milk, 68.39 pounds butterfat.

Rounding Out Our First Successful Year

With the close of business Monday, May 11th, our Main Line Store completed its first year of service to our customers in the great suburban community stretching westward from the city border-line. A year exceedingly successful and gratifying to us—which surely signifies a corresponding degree of satisfaction to the patrons upon whose good-will our hopes were predicated.

One Year in the Main Line Store

In this first year the new Store at Ardmore has more than justified our faith in the venture, fully meeting a sales-quota which to some good friends appeared over-optimistic one year ago.

Not in this first year's figures alone do we find satisfaction—for the novelty and beauty of a new store might bring many visitors for a time—but we have evidence of increasing strength and solidity, a real liking for the new store in the community—unmistakable assurances of permanency and continued growth!

For the First Days of Our Second Year

At the end of its first year this convenient store is as bright and fresh as the day we opened its doors to the public—AND MUCH MORE INTERESTING.

We have a year's understanding of what the Main Line would like its store to be and we are modeling our efforts to their ideal.

We invite you to visit us this week and notice especially the beautiful, complete assortments of apparel, the fine lines of seasonal household merchandise, and the MANY SPECIAL VALUES IN RECOGNITION OF OUR FIRST YEAR'S BUSINESS FROM THIS COMMUNITY.

to second when Baker was passed, and scored on Harris' single through shortstop.

This run appeared to be a safe margin in view of the airtight twirling of both pitchers, but in the eighth inning the visitors filled the bases on two bases on balls and a single, and Wellendorf slammed a safe hit between Fleck and Richards that cleared the bags and gave them a 3-1 lead.

However, Narberth came back strong in the last half of the ninth, when Gilfillan walked and Cheeseman was hit by a pitched ball. Harvey Humphries, the old reliable, then stepped to the plate and poked a single to left, scoring Gilfillan. Griffiths, who seemed to be weakening, then walked Howard Graham, filling the bases. Then while Griffiths was pitching to Herb Baker, Wellendorf allowed two of Lefty's fast ones to escape his grasp and Cheeseman and Humphries scored the tying and winning runs on the misplays.

Manager Davis' new infield worked very smoothly afield and, while Gene deplores the weak hitting exhibited Saturday, he feels sure that when the boys have played a few more games this defect will be remedied. Harry Francis, center fielder, a former Notre Dame star, and Catcher King, both newcomers to the Narberth lineup, caused much favorable comment among the fans with their excellent work. Altogether, Manager Davis expressed himself as well satisfied with the showing of the club, considering their lack of practice, which has been held up by the rainy weather of the last two week-ends.

Open Overbrook Miniature Golf Course; New Greens

Sure sign of approaching summer is the reopening of miniature golf courses. Conveniently accessible to the eastern Main Line is the Overbrook Miniature Golf Course, at City Line and 63d street—just across from the Overbrook Station. Under management of Lee Arliss, the 18-hole course, which opened last season when the fad first swept the country, is now open for new season. New greens have been installed, and the course, with its flowers, well-kept greens and pleasant environment, is now at the service of the public. Plans are being made for contests to be held during the season, of which announcement will be made later.

"Mere Marie of the Ursulines," by Agnes Repplier (Doubleday, Doran & Co., $2.50).

Reviewed by J. J. CABREY

To those who know nuns, Agnes Repplier's "Mere Marie of the Ursulines" is no unique revelation, crowded as the great narrative is with the fierce struggles of pioneer Quebec, and altogether a tale of extraordinary adventure and historical import. Through the dusty years the story finds its parallel, albeit in other settings, in the endeavors and achievements of other heroic women of the religious orders, some of them recorded, most of them left unsung, the benefactors of all the nations and the leaven of all the generations.

Of distinctive interest is the galaxy of service accomplished by women who have come to the vows from the married state, as was the case with Mere Marie. In the instances which come most readily to hand, Cornelia Connelly, born in Philadelphia, foundress of the Society of The Holy Child Jesus, the order which administers our nearby Rosemont College, and Elizabeth Seton, who brought forth the Sisters of Charity, both were mothers who became converts to the Catholic faith, and their life records are highlights of spiritual romance. Likewise, the brilliant daughter of Nathaniel Hawthorne, Mrs. Rose Hawthorne Lathrop, formerly a Unitarian, was the sponsor of the sisterhood which cares for the cancerous poor, a work of mercy which vies with Damien's love of the lepers, as Philadelphia can now behold in the house which has recently been opened on York Road.

From Cornwallis, on the Bristol Road, go out to scores of missions in all parts of the United States bands of Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament, devoted to the advancement of the colored and Indians, the immense contribution of Francis Drexel's daughter, Katherine A. Drexel, a gay and saintly spirit on whom the years rest lightly and who continues to make her regular visits to the outposts of creed and culture which her inheritance has established throughout the country.

Mere Marie was not a foundress and neither was Sister Mary Joseph, the Charity nun who spent herself for sixty-five years in caring for the orphans of Philadelphia, dying at the age of ninety-five on her patron's day, March 19, 1926. The rest of the household needed no further evidence of the Lord's favor than that significant fact, and the dear lady is still a living force in Charity's splendid institutions in West Philadelphia and Lansdowne.

The far-flung fame of our own Merion, the mother-house of the Mercy order, only came as the result of dauntless courage coping at all times with dire poverty and what seemed to be insuperable obstacles. Mother Patricia is said to have arrived on the vacant acres with a new shiny nickel and a boundless faith. As you meet the nuns coming from there to teach in our local parochial school, it is easy to discern that the boundless faith is still with them.

Miss Repplier was on her own home grounds in writing "Mere Marie," for it was the Ursulines who had her first as a nice little girl so many years ago at Torresdale, and it is evident that the faith and the charm of the French country of Canada afford elixir to her soul. By all odds the present book tops its companion piece, "Pere Marquette," where the author had little to interpret and a great deal less to describe. Miss Repplier's foremost place in American letters will be enhanced by this impressive volume. She sets Mere Marie apart as a woman of the ages, sound, sane and superbly capable, a mystic of prodigious deeds, but whose feet never left the ground. She reveals the beginnings

Fortnightly Club Gives Book On Pottery to the Library

For several years it has been the custom of the Fortnightly Club of Narberth to present to the Library an authoritative book on one of the subjects of applied or fine arts. This year the book selected was "Early American Pottery and China," by John Spargo.

In the foreword the author says that the book is written by a hobbyist for his fellow-hobbyists, but Mr. Spargo is more than a hobbyist. He is an enthusiastic student of pottery and a discriminating collector. The book, however, is written with the amateur in mind and technical matters are explained in nontechnical terms so that any one may easily learn to recognize the most important types of the potter's art.

The book contains many illustrations of stoneware, earthenware and porcelain, together with check lists of American potters from 1850 to 1876, and plates of potters' marks with the corresponding keys.

The list of books as presented by the Fortnightly Club to date is as follows: "Practical Book of Oriental Rugs," by G. G. Lewis; "Early American Glass," by Rhea Knittle; "Practical Book of Chinaware," by Harold Eberlein; "Quilts, Their Story and How to Make Them," by Marie Webster; "Practical Book of Period Furniture," by Harold Eberlein; "Aristocrats of the Garden," by Ernest D. Wilson, and "Early American Pottery and China," by John Spargo.

of a new country with a sprightly clarity which makes it quite understandable why the land is the same unto this day and why it is not likely to change.

The travel to Canada continues apace. Some go to refresh themselves with faith. Others may go to refresh themselves with something else. The latter will find the Chateau Frontenac altogether to their liking. The others will applaud, perhaps, the attempt to make its architecture blend with the never-changing spirit of old Quebec, but they will say it has been all in vain, all too new, all too monstrous. With Agnes Repplier, they will go down the twisted streets and find a place where the conversation shall still have to do with Mere Marie as if she hadn't been dead these hundreds of years at all!

You ought by all means to read the book and there is not a doubt in the world that you will cordially embrace the fine piece of robust hagiography which trickles through its pages.

Main Line Home and Garden Improvement Notes

By ROBERT J. EDGAR

Dogwood in flower. And is there anything more beautiful and more satisfactory than our own native white dogwood? While the pink flower is possibly more showy, it is not native, but a sport from further South and is better suited to the more formal or suburban garden than it is to the naturalistic. It is in autumn that the dogwoods are really appreciated with the brilliant crimson leaves and brighter berries. It is well worth the trip to Valley Forge to see the hillside in October. And don't overlook the Redbud, Cercis Canadensis.

And now when the trees are unfurling their leaves we can see their real state of health and vigor. Dead branches and dead twigs tell the story; the cause may be drought of past seasons or the work of insects—scale or leaf feeders. Feeding to restore the trees to health is the best investment. Removal of unsightly dead wood is necessary in order to prevent dying branches from causing cavities in the years to follow. Branches should be cut close to the base to assure proper healing and the wound should be properly painted to prevent checking and the entry of fungus spores.

As the narcissi drop their last petals and start to build new bulbs for next season we are reminded that now is the time to note the varieties that we like and order them in June for fall delivery. The fragrant Poeticus is probably the most satisfactory or we may prefer some of the shortcup sorts in the Leedsii, Barri or Incomparabilis classes. For an early fragrant yellow the Jonquils are perfection. It may be prejudice, but we do not like the top-heavy, long trumpet kinds that shriek for attention. The narcissus seems to be a modest flower that peeps out from around shrubs in a shady corner and not suited for open beds and borders in sun like its cousin the tulip.

It may be more prejudice, but we very much prefer the lighter colors in tulips. Soft pinks like Flamingo and Clara Butt, and yellows like Moonlight (early) and Mrs. Moon or Ellen Willmott, are to be preferred to reds and scarlets in the garden. If we have a tulip garden for cutting the stronger colors may be used to bring indoors. The Laphami variety of Phlox Divaricata with its clear lavender-blue and 10-inch height makes a beautiful companion to pink and yellow tulips. To cover the dying foliage of tulips in the border try pink Sweet William.

While the tall bearded Irises prefer open sun and lime in their soil, there is one dainty little native iris that will do well in leaf soil in partial shade, and tiny enough for the rock garden—Iris Cristata. See it, love it, buy it, plant it and watch it spread.

In the woodland garden there is lots doing, the ferns are changing their "fiddle-ends" into green fronds and there is color everywhere. The yellow lady slipper, Cypripedium Pubescens, was first among the hardy orchids—and what a queen she is!

On a sunny bank in light acid soil we find the birds foot violet, Viola Pedata, the little plant covered with bloom. Some prefer the solid blue-lavender color, while others like the type with purple upper petals. Take either or both and you can't go wrong.

Real Estate

BY RITE NOW

Folks, in case you don't know me, my name is "Now." Many people tell me I have quite a line. Why not? It's real estate.

I might be likened to Humpty Dumpty since my line has had quite a drop. If some people feel that it's down to stay they are going to be fooled. It's down; but not out.

Just as sure as business will improve so will my line increase in value.

I admit that my line has been suffering from the fall but many people will see its inherent value and "Buy Now" when houses and homes are the lowest in this generation.

This generation will never again have the opportunity to take advantage of the low real estate prices.

Even now people are awakening as to real bargains in my line and—just as soon as this becomes more general—the prices will rise.

Plan Country Club For Penn Valley

Plans for a country club in Penn Valley to include a concrete swimming pool, tennis courts, short golf course and a clubhouse will be presented at a meeting of residents of the section at the Montgomery School next Wednesday evening.

A boathouse on the bank of the Schuylkill River, directly below the clubhouse, is also contemplated.

The Executive Committee of the Penn Valley Association, at a meeting on Tuesday evening, decided to submit the proposed plan to residents of the section next Wednesday.

The committee appointed for the purpose of investigating the possibilities of the club described a most unusual plan for a combination of social, swimming, horseback riding, boating, golf and tennis club. If those present at the meeting on the twentieth vote in favor of going ahead, it is intended to construct a concrete swimming pool approximately 50x75 feet, with showers and dressing rooms adjacent, a two-story clubhouse consisting of a large lounge, cloak and washrooms, kitchens, large porches on the first floor and an auditorium on the second floor for meetings and dances. It is planned also to have a second floor porch which may be reached from the auditorium.

The site selected for the club is on a hill above the Schuylkill in a high, airy location with a beautiful view over the river and with some fine virgin forest directly behind the clubhouse. Tennis courts and a short golf course will be constructed adjacent to the club. This golf course will consist of a few holes and will be of assistance to the members largely in its opportunity to practice and improve their short game. The site of the clubhouse will be adjacent to the horseback trails which now wind through Penn Valley and which for about five miles are now marked and usable. These trails are a part of and connect directly with all the 30 miles of trails of the Bridle Ways Association which lie between Penn Valley and Conshohocken. In the very near future these trails will be connected with those of the Chester Valley Association. It is proposed, if there is sufficient interest in the subject, to erect stables and a paddock near the clubhouse which will be used by the members for the care of their horses so that they may take advantage of these fine trails.

It is also proposed that the association erect a boathouse on the Schuylkill bank directly below the clubhouse in order that the membership may house motorboats, canoes, sailing skiffs, etc., and that they may utilize the beauty of the water which lies above Flat Rock Dam and which constitutes a lake about half a mile wide and some seven miles long. This lake is particularly beautiful in certain spots, emphasizing as it does the wooded ravines which run down to the river and the green islands which show above the surface.

It is intended to design and operate the club in such a manner that it will be particularly appealing both to the older and also to the juvenile membership. Membership in the club will be restricted probably to about 150 families.

Persons showing interest in the proposal include Messrs. J. A. Lafore, Percival Roberts, Jr., Dr. Gibson Bell, W. D. Fuller, William M. Anderson, J. Bruce Byall, E. Burke Wilford and many others.

Scout Mothers Raise $101.50 for Troop

Performances of 'The College Flapper' Please Good Audiences.

Exactly $101.50 was raised by the benefit performances of "The College Flapper" given last Thursday and Friday evenings under the auspices of the Scout Mothers for the benefit of the Narberth Scout Troop.

The 305 people who attended on Thursday night and 350 on Friday were rewarded with a show which was enjoyable from beginning to end. It was given in the Parish Hall of the Methodist Church, and directed by the Universal Producing Company.

Art Cooke, as the college football hero, was the outstanding member of the cast, although all participants took their parts well.

The business men as the college flappers had a rare good time and enjoyed themselves as much as the audience.

Mrs. Henry Frye, as special dramatic reader for the occasion, presented a baby pageant with many small children from 5 to 7 years of age.

The thanks of the Scout Mothers are extended to all members of the cast, business men and others who helped make the performances a success.

The cast was as follows:

Abel to Display School Plans at P.-T. A. Meeting

The election of officers for next year will take place at the meeting of the Narberth Parent-Teacher Association on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Following the business meeting Miss Miller's grade will give a brief dramatization of the Louisiana Purchase.

Plans for the new school building will be displayed and explained by Victor D. Abel, of Narbrook Park, of the firm of Boyd, Abel and Gugert, architects for the alterations. Ernest Bailey will show a moving picture of the May Day celebration which was held on the Community Playground. Parents and friends are invited to attend the Field Day at the School Playground beginning at 1 P. M. this Friday.

Narberth and Main Line Clubs Shine at Meeting of Montgomery County Federation

The following were elected officers of the Montgomery County Federation of Women's Clubs at the meeting in Collegeville last Thursday: President, Mrs. William White, of Conshohocken; first vice president, Mrs. David N. Patterson, of Cynwyd; second vice president, Mrs. G. C. Shank; secretary, Mrs. Allen M. Craig; assistant to the secretary, Mrs. H. C. Egner, and treasurer, Mrs. W. D. Anders.

The Main Line clubs which figured prominently in the reports of the various county chairmen were Narberth, Bryn Mawr and Bala-Cynwyd. Mrs. H. I. McConnell, of Narberth, county chairman of the Junior Department of Montgomery County, gave an interesting account of her activities during the club year.

A feature of the afternoon session was the presentation of "The Playgoers," by Sir Arthur Pinero, by the Montycofed Troupe, under the direction of Mrs. David N. Patterson, chairman of literature of Montgomery county. In the cast were Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Harry J. Bahr, of Pottstown Century Club; Mrs. Lawrence C. K. Ridington, of the Conshohocken Club; Mrs. Harry J. Difenbeck, of the Pottstown Club; Mrs. Stephen E. Slocum, of the Ardmore Club, and

Mrs. C. Arley Farmer, of the Woman's Community Club of Narberth, who as handy man about the house gave an outstanding characterization of that useful nuisance. Mrs. Goodwyn M. Davis, of Bryn Mawr, as the crying maid, was very entertaining, and Mrs. Patterson as the irate, yet well-intentioned master of the house, was very amusing.

The county chorus, composed of many members of the clubs in the county, gave several selections.

Awards were made for the flower displays, the Willow Grove and Pottstown Clubs capturing the blue and red ribbons. The Woman's Club of Lansdale was awarded the prize for the best press book, and the poster contest by the students of the high school was won by Abington High School. The publicity and press display was in charge of Mrs. Neal Anderson, of the Narberth Club.

Mrs. Florence Griscom was awarded the first prize in the conservation exhibit.

The Norristown Civic Club will give a luncheon at the Bungalow Inn on May 21, when the Montgomery Federation will be their guests. There will be a number of good speakers.

Narberth Girl Winner of Scholarship to Switzerland

Miss Miriam Strong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Strong, of 29 Narbrook Park, is one of the 16 students who have been chosen for study in Europe by the Institute of International Education, New York.

Miss Strong, who will graduate in June from Oberlin College, in Ohio, will specialize in child psychology. She will continue her studies in psychology at the University of Geneva, Switzerland. The Rousseau Institute, which is connected with this university, has a fine department of child psychology.

While at Oberlin, Miss Strong lived in the French house for two years, which is under a native of France and where only French is spoken. She, therefore, speaks that language fluently. Her other interests in college have been the Dramatic Club, the college choir and chorus. In addition she has played on her class basketball and hockey teams.

She prepared for college at Friends' Select School.

Assist at Club Booth

Those who assisted Mrs. J. W. Darville and Mrs. Charles H. Shaw at the booth sponsored by the Woman's Community Club of Narberth at the Little Garden Day Sale in Bryn Mawr, on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, were Mrs. J. K. Loughlin, Mrs. W. C. NO. 277 AN ORDINANCE

Regulating the type, material and width of sidewalks and curbs and prescribing penalties for violation thereof: The Council of the Borough of Narberth does ordain:

Section 1. From and after the passage of this ordinance it shall be unlawful to construct any new sidewalk or curb in the Borough except of the width and of the materials hereinafter provided.

Section 2. Any new or reconstructed sidewalk shall be not less than four (4) feet in width and shall be constructed of concrete except that Council may, by resolution, permit the use of other material in specific cases.

Section 3. All curbs shall be constructed of either concrete which is at least six (6) inches thick at the top or of granite which is at least four (4) inches thick. Any dirt or grass plot between sidewalk and curb shall be made even with both sidewalk and curb and shall be so maintained. In any case curbs shall not be made integral with the adjoining sidewalk.

Section 4. All sidewalks and curbs shall be of approved material and laid in accordance with the Borough specifications which are on file in the Borough Office and may be there consulted.

Section 5. No sidewalk or curb shall be laid until the line and grade thereof are established by either the Borough Engineer or by competent authority designated by Council.

Section 6. Whenever in the judgment of the Highway Committee the existing sidewalk or curb on any property requires repairs and the owner of the said property is notified thereof, in accordance with the authority of Ordinance No. 249, "Requiring the relaying and repairing of gutters, curbs and sidewalks and providing for the repeal of certain ordinances," passed February 14th, 1927, the repairs may be made in such a manner as to replace the said sidewalk or curb in substantially its original condition, provided the said repairs do not include more than fifty per cent. (50%) of the total frontage of the property on any one street. If, however, more than fifty per cent. (50%) of replacement is required, the entire frontage of the sidewalk or curb may be required to be replaced in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance.

Section 7. A fine of twenty-five ($25.00) dollars may be imposed for any violation of this Ordinance, to be recovered with costs of suit, in the name of and for the use of the Borough as penalties are now recoverable, and the person so offending shall be required to replace the defective curb or sidewalk by a suitable sidewalk or curb within a period of ten (10) days after due notice, in default of which the Borough authorities may lay a suitable curb or sidewalk, the cost of the same being assessed against the owner of the property together with the addition of a penalty of ten (10) per cent. thereto.

Section 8. All ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent with the provisions of this Ordinance be and they are hereby repealed.

$500 REWARD

During the last few months, reports have come to the Welfare Federation of Philadelphia concerning a story to the effect that "a friend" recently gave the Federation $100 for use in a specific case of distress and that the Federation, later inquiry revealed, provided only $40 for the family in need and retained $60 "for overhead expenses."

I wish to state without qualification that this story or any variation of it—and there are many variations—is absolutely false, and I offer $500 to any one who can prove the contrary.

On behalf of its 150,000 or more contributors and the thousands of unemployed and distressed people its agencies have been enabled to help, the Welfare Federation insists that this scandal-mongering stop.

Constructive suggestions are welcome, but at this time, when all social work is straining every nerve to meet extraordinary conditions, everybody should pitch in and help support, not undermine, the front-line defenses against distress and starvation.

WILLIAM M. ELKINS,
President of Welfare Federation.

School Bond Issue Gets High Premium

$1729.15 Granted on $55,000
Bond Issue of School Board.

FOR REMODELING BLDG.

One of the highest premiums given for a long time was granted by the Narberth School Board on its $55,000 bond issue which was recently put on the market.

The E. H. Rollins Company, of Philadelphia, were high bidders on the offering. Their bid will net the School District a premium of $1729.15. The next highest competitive bid would have netted a premium of $1496, and the lowest, $311.

This figure, which is considered a remarkable price for a small bond issue, is due to the low indebtedness of the Narberth School District, which is $48,000, contrasted with the $5,000,000 assessed valuation of the borough. Of this $15,000 will be paid off on October 1, 1931, leaving a total of $33,000.

The bond issue will be used to modernize completely the Narberth School Building in accordance with plans announced in "Our Town" recently by Kenneth L. M. Pray, president of the School Board.

The issue, consisting of 4 per cent. 30-year bonds, will be paid off proportionately every five years. The Board plans to set aside a sinking fund for this purpose.

Champ Basketball Team Honored by M. L. Kiwanis

Lower Merion's championship basketball team and coach were entertained Tuesday night at Whitehall by the Main Line Kiwanis Club. Besides giving them a fancy dinner, the members of the club told Coach Bill and the boys just how good the team was this past season.

This made the third party for the two-time Eastern regional champions this season. The Penn Athletic Club honored the boys early in April at one of their luncheons, while Dr. William L. Martin, of Cynwyd, sponsored a little get-together at Green Hill Farms the latter part of the month.

Penn A. C. presented the boys with a certificate honoring them for their accomplishments in athletic fields. At the Green Hill Farms' banquet the boys were presented with white sweaters with L. M. in maroon. Dr. Martin and Principal Gilbert were given loving cups by Anderson and his team for their help during the basketball season, and Coach Bill received a beautiful traveling kit from his proteges. It was a nice party, attended by a group of fine men who wished to encourage growing boys to carry on in later life with the same efforts that they put into their bid for the State championship. The Kiwanians were lavish in their praise of the boys and their coach on Tuesday evening, and it is to their credit that they took time to honor the youth of own Township in their efforts to do things in a big way.
